SPRING 2010

Dear BAD Member,

Even though spring seems to have been put on hold due to the recent spate of bad weather we are currently experiencing here in the UK, welcome to the Spring edition of Conference Quarterly!

2010 sees the B.A.D Annual Meeting reach its 90th year as we return to Manchester over 6th – 8th July. Held at the newly renovated Manchester Central Convention Complex this years meeting offers delegates an exciting mix of educational as well as social experiences. The meeting programme is near completion, and the second announcement brochure will be distributed in April. Details will also be posted on the BAD website.

Don't forget that to take advantage of the discounted "early bird" registration rates for the meeting, you will need to register by Monday 10th May. Online registration can be accessed here, or alternatively download an application form here. All those who submitted abstracts for the main BAD Meeting have been informed of the outcome of their submissions and a full list of accepted papers will soon appear on the website.

For more information about this year's Annual Meeting, please visit our website: www.bad.org.uk/annualmeeting

UPCOMING EVENTS

April 2010

Ageing Skin: Insights & Interventions

Venue: The Radisson Edwardian Hotel, Manchester

Date: 29th April

Ageing Skin meeting returns to Manchester and The Radisson Edwardian Hotel on the 29th April to once again address both the science of skin ageing at the molecular and cellular levels alongside the raising of awareness of the latest cutting-edge therapies and treatment options.

This meeting is a unique opportunity for those interested not only in the practical aspects of facial rejuvenation, but the pathomechanisms of ageing skin.

It is also ideal for dermatologists interested in expanding their knowledge and diversifying their skills base. Click here to access the programme and registration form.

UPCOMING EVENTS

May 2010

Applied Photodermatology Course

Venue: B.A.D. House, London

Date: 4th – 5th May

Applied Photodermatology

Open to all dermatologists the emphasis of the course is on practical aspects of patient care, with particular attention to advances in management.

This course includes two days of interactive teaching. The taught course is preceded by 33 PowerPoint lectures from experts in the field. The PowerPoint lectures will be available to students on CD six weeks before the taught course starts (equivalent to 5 hours private study). Students require a computer with audio facilities in order to hear the lecturer's voice.

The two taught days are divided into Photodermatology disease management (day 1) and phototherapy (day 2). A variety of teaching techniques are used including expert patients, case scenarios, small group problem solving, lectures and practical demonstrations.

June 2010

THESIS/BAD/BSID Research Course

Venue: B.A.D. House, London

Date: 10th – 11th June

THESIS
THESIS/BAD/BSID
Research Course

The 10th Meeting of THESIS, a combined THESIS / BAD / BSID Research Course is to be held in London on 10th - 11th June.

The course will be suitable for SpRs in Dermatology and for 'SHO's/foundation year trainees who wish to pursue a career in either clinical or academic dermatology. New consultants will be most welcome and SpRs in years one and two are particularly encouraged to attend. We are keen to continue with presentations from registrars who have either completed a thesis or who are at an advanced stage of their research. In this way we hope that those new to dermatology will learn how to carry out good research and how to avoid pitfalls. Please click here for the registration form as well as further information.

Note: Registrars and Research Fellows please contact Dr Clive Archer if you would like to give a presentation on your work: clive.archer@UH Bristol.nhs.uk

90th Annual Meeting of The British Association of Dermatologists

Venue: Manchester Central Convention Complex

Date: 6th – 8th July

As mentioned above the 90th Annual Meeting of the BAD will see us return to the city of Manchester, the venue for the 2006 meeting. The Manchester Central Convention Complex has experienced a re-branding and extensive renovation work since 2006 to keep it at the cutting edge of conference centre design. Situated within the city centre the venue offers a great location for hotels, restaurants and the social events to be staged during the week.
