

The Mitsuda reaction

The Mitsuda reaction - a granulomatous response to lepromin is seen in the tuberculoid form of leprosy, in which cell mediated immunity is strong